

3rd nine weeks idioms

Eating me out of house and home:

Eat so much as to deplete someone's resources

In a pickle- you are in a difficult position, or have a problem to which no easy answer can be found

Vice Versa- the main items in the preceding statement the other way around.

At the eleventh hour-the latest possible time before it is too late. still making changes at the eleventh hour.

“take the bull by the horns”-deal bravely and decisively with a difficult, dangerous, or unpleasant situation

“steal his/her thunder”-To upstage someone; to destroy the effect of what someone does or says by doing or saying the same thing first

“the grass is always greener”- the things other people have or their situations always look better than your own, even when they are not really so

“birthday suit”-to be completely naked (as people are at birth).

“well begun is half done”-A good beginning almost ensures success

“a penny saved is a penny earned”-Money not spent is money that is in one's pocket.

3rd nine weeks idioms

Eating me out of house and home:

Eat so much as to deplete someone's resources

In a pickle- you are in a difficult position, or have a problem to which no easy answer can be found

Vice Versa- the main items in the preceding statement the other way around.

At the eleventh hour-the latest possible time before it is too late. still making changes at the eleventh hour.

“take the bull by the horns”-deal bravely and decisively with a difficult, dangerous, or unpleasant situation

“steal his/her thunder”-To upstage someone; to destroy the effect of what someone does or says by doing or saying the same thing first

“the grass is always greener”- the things other people have or their situations always look better than your own, even when they are not really so

“birthday suit”-to be completely naked (as people are at birth).

“well begun is half done”-A good beginning almost ensures success

“a penny saved is a penny earned”-Money not spent is money that is in one's pocket.